

CELEBRATING 28 YEARS OF SINGLES GOLF® IN AMERICA

WASHINGTON, DC SINGLES GOLF

Washington DC Chapter - American Singles Golf Association — January 2020

GOLF & TRAVEL SHOW - FEBRUARY 1ST

We're ready for a fun year of golf in 2020. Check out our schedule of Week End and Week Day events. Block your calendar now for some fun new courses and your old favorites. Get your juices flowing by checking out the Golf and Travel Show. Last weekend may have been a fluke but it will be warm enough for golf soon!

UPCOMING EVENTS

Attention ASGA-DC! It's that time again to join your ASGA-DC friends at the 2020 Washington Golf and Travel Show, held at the Dulles Expo Center in Chantilly, VA. The Golf and Travel Show features a huge selection of golf equipment, apparel and accessories, fabulous resorts, skills competitions, and more. Afterwards we'll be going for a group dinner at Famous Dave's in Chantilly at 5:45, which is only a few blocks away.

DATE: February 1st 2020.

WHERE: Dulles Expo Center, 4320 Chantilly Shopping Center, Chantilly, VA 20153, then Famous Dave's for barbecue at 14452 Chantilly Crossing Lane.

TIME: "late afternoon" (~4:00-4:30?), depending on how much shopping you intend to do. We will meet at the front of the Golf Show to go to Famous Dave's at 5:30. If you just want to meet us for dinner, come to Famous Dave's at 5:45.

COST: The Golf Show costs $12 at the door (cash only), and comes with a subscription to Golf Magazine. You can also order your tickets on line at the show's website.

RSVP to Dave Sheets at sheets_david@hotmail.com. If you have questions the day of the show, call me at 703-517-8487.

See you on the 1st! ~Dave

9 Realistic Golf Resolutions You Need to Set for Yourself in 2020

By Dylan Dethier, Golf.com

1. Control what you can control!

Let's make that our first golf resolution of the new year. Here are eight other realistic (!) resolutions for your golf game in 2020.

2. Get to the course early!

We're not recommending any Bryson-level range sessions nor Tiger's five-hour pre-round prep, but it wouldn't hurt to kick the habit of rolling into the parking lot while the rest of your group is lined up on the tee, glaring in your direction (my playing partners are nodding in unison). How 'bout allowing 20 minutes to hit a few balls, loosen up a little and talk some putting-green smack? This is a big personal goal for the new year.

3. Make those short putts!

We all know the temptation of swiping away a three-footer, but try to hole your shorties in 2020. Under pressure, there's no such thing as an easy putt — if you make 'em when they don't matter, they'll be easier to make when they do matter.

4. Plan a golf trip!

Keep in mind that not every golf trip requires five days at Bandon Dunes or a weeklong Irish odyssey. The best part about a golf trip is looking forward to said trip; it's valuable to have something on your calendar that gets you excited. You already know that we'd highly recommend a trip to any of our Top 100 Resorts, but a golf trip can just as easily mean a 36-hour getaway to play two courses you've had your eye on just an hour from home. Tailor your trip to your budget, your availability and your preferred company — adventure is out there for everyone

5. If something works, write it down.

Sometimes the simplest swing thought can get you in the groove, but we know that never lasts forever. Still, when you find a trigger move or a specific feeling that works, write it down! Start a list on your phone. That way, if you're ever feeling lost you can run through a checklist of stuff that's worked in the past.

6. Get a lesson.

A great complement to said list! Nothing has to be seriously wrong for you to benefit from a little instruction from a trusted source. Think of it like seeing the doctor for your annual check-up, but more fun.

7. Leave your phone in your bag.

There are plenty of reasons to have your phone out while you play: scorekeeping apps, background music, checking GOLF.com. But if you can, try leaving your phone in your bag. Part of the joy of the game can be in unplugging; you might be surprised how much fun you have — and how well you play.

8. Walk more.

Golf is great exercise — as long as you get out of the cart. I'm not here to tell you to go buggy-free in 2020, but walking 18 holes can help you with those other New Year's resolutions: getting in shape, shedding a few pounds, etc.

9. Play more!

The whole reason we like to play golf is that, well, we like to play. This doesn't mean you need to spend 11 hours every Saturday at the country club — it means you should make time for some extra golf here and there. An emergency nine. A few holes at dusk. Maybe even snag the first tee time Sunday morning and get 18 in before brunch. If you're intentional about it, you can sneak in some bonus holes in 2020 and have some fun while you're at it.

WEEKDAY GOLF

Take the day off and join the retired crew. Next season we'll have more volunteers and great places to play. The leader will pick the day and course. Look for emails announcing the outing. These are all pay-on-site.

Your handicap is about to change! Everything you need to know about the new system

~Golf.com

What is happening to my handicap?

In short, it is getting better and global. For most folks who use the USGA Handicap System there will be little change. The current system computes your 10 best scores from your 20 most recent rounds. Under the new system only your top eight rounds will count toward your handicap, so if those 9th and 10th best rounds aren't so hot, expect your index to improve. The 96% multiplier that existed in the old handicap system no longer exists, which should make calculating index changes in your head a bit easier for those quick with numbers.

I thought there already was a world handicap system?

Nope! There are actually six different systems in place around the world. Today, when American golfers want to post a score abroad, they might discover that that course may not have been rated via the USGA Course Rating System. Beginning next year all courses across the world — save for a few — will have the same grading system, dubbed "The Course Rating System." This is a significant change that required raters to get out and assess roughly 3,000 courses around the world. No small job. Take a sprawling continent like Africa, for example. Raters there started in South Africa, Edmondson says, “and once they finished all their courses, they branched out to Angola, to Botswana, to Comoros, to DRC, Madagascar, Malawi.”

I don't have a handicap, what should I do?

Get one! It is easier than ever. You'll only have to play three rounds, or six nine-hole rounds, to create a Handicap Index. The old system required five 18-hole rounds. This change makes it easier for players to establish a handicap, so take advantage.

But I'm not good enough for a handicap...

Yes, you are! The new maximum index is 54.0 instead of what was 36.4 for men and 40.4 for women. Beginners are encouraged to take up a handicap, even if they're just learning the game. “It's all about greater enjoyment in the game,” Edmondson said. “Going out and having fun. This is a fun game. It would be hard to argue that a Handicap Index doesn't help with greater enjoyment of the game. It allows us, no matter if we're playing competitively or just having fun, to really have that fairness when we're playing one another.”

What does it cost?

To create a truly worldwide system, there's a lot of technology and man-hours involved. That isn't free! But for you, the annual charge is about $20-30. That's the price of one more bucket of balls a couple times a year! You can fit it into your budget. If not, you likely won't be able to compete in officially sanctioned events. Find a USGA Allied Golf Association (typically your state golf association) website for more information.

How soon should I post scores after playing?

As soon as possible, and it's worth it. The old system would revise your index bimonthly, on the 1st and 15th. The new system will update every single day. So your great round yesterday could impact your handicap tomorrow. The USGA has a GHIN App that makes it very easy to log scores immediately after a round. This has some ramifications for your annual club championship. In the past, if your championship took place on, say, June 24, your handicap from June 15 was used, and all scores from June 16-23 didn't matter. Now, those scores will have more relevance.

What about nine-hole scores? Do they count?

Absolutely. In fact, it's encouraged! The more data points, the more sound your Handicap Index will be.

What happens when I shoot 90 in good weather and 92 in bad weather?

The latter might actually improve your index more than the former. Because of the new Playing Conditions Calculation (PCC), scores posted at the same course on the same day will help determine if the course played more difficult (or easier) than normal, due to conditions or setup. Handicap differentials from all abilities of players will work together to create this calculation, and your handicap could be impacted because of it. “You look at the field for all scores posted on that day, regardless of what tee they played,” Edmondson said. “We know from our player equations from what we've modeled in the Handicap Index what are the expected scores for every golfer. When you get so many golfers that are higher or lower — outside of that [score] funnel — you would have an adjustment. This course played one stroke harder [than normal]. This course played two strokes harder. This course played one stroke easier.”

According to the USGA, this adjustment will not happen often, but it's another reason why it's important to post your score on the day you played. Scores posted retroactively will not contribute to the PCC, though they will be impacted by it. You're helping the USGA (and golfers everywhere) by feeding more data into the system.

What does this mean for Equitable Stroke Control?

We're impressed you know what ESC is! For those who don't, a quick primer: At its core, handicapping is a hole-by-hole exercise, in which each hole has a maximum number of strokes one can make. The new guideline is Net Double Bogey. If a player with a course handicap of 15 is playing the hole rated 11th-most difficult, the worst score he or she can submit on that hole would be a double bogey plus 1 — i.e., if the 11th-most difficult hole is a par 3, a score of 6 on that hole would register as a net double bogey. Likewise, if a player with a course handicap of 15 is playing the 17th-most difficult hole, the worst score he or she could submit would simply be a double bogey, given the “net” aspect doesn't apply on that 17th-toughest hole.

Any other major changes?

There are new handiCAPS, as in "caps" on your index if you run into poor form.

Get the shanks for a month? Sheesh. If you post six scores in the 100s when you're normally an 80s-shooter, you will probably run into what is now called the "soft cap." If your handicap decreases (gets worse) by three points in a 12-month span, further decreases will only be calculated at 50%. Heaven forbid those shanks continue, a "hard cap" is instituted when your index decreases by five in a 12-month span.

When does this all begin?

Soon! The World Handicap System switch will flip during the first full week of January, 2020. So, who's up for a little winter golf?

Ten Marvelously True But Very Funny Sayings about Golf

1. I'll always remember the day I broke ninety. I had a few beers in the clubhouse and was so excited I forgot to play the back nine - Bruce Lansky
2. They say golf is like life, but don't believe them. It's more complicated than that - Gardner Dickinson
3. I'm hitting the woods just great, but I'm having a terrible time getting out of them - Harry Tofcano
4. Golf! You hit down to make the ball go up. You swing left and the ball goes right. The lowest score wins. And on top of that, the winner buys the drinks - Anon
5. I play in the low 80s. If it's any hotter than that, I won't play - Anon
6. Putts get real difficult the day they hand out the money - Lee Trevino
7. The best wood in most amateurs' bags is the pencil - Unknown
8. I'd like to see the fairways more narrow. Then everybody would have to play from the rough, not just me - Seve Ballesteros
9. If you think it's hard to meet new people, try picking up the wrong golf ball - Jack Lemmon
10. Golf is a game whose aim is to hit a very small ball into a even smaller hole, with weapons singularly ill-designed for the purpose - Winston Churchill
